Teen charged as adult in Waveland manslaughter case

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Waveland Police Chief James Varnell identified Alton Terry, 504 Amar St., Waveland, as the juvenile charged with manslaughter in the death of 17-month-old Junell Lynell George.

Varnell reported Terry was certified as an adult Tuesday during a preliminary hearing. He will now be brought before the grand jury when it next convenes for determination of trial date.

The child was reported dead to the Waveland Police Department shortly past noon on August

An autopsy, ordered by medical examiner Norma Stiglet, revealed a ruptured liver, fractured skull and several bruises, as well as evidence of sexual abuse. Investigation of those living with the child resulted in the arrest of Terry, the boyfriend of her mother, Tanya George, 20.

Terry is currently in the Hancock County Justice Facility. Judge Michael Haas set the bond at $25,000 bond, with approval by sheriff Ronnie

The investigation continues, with Varnell, Dave Stepro and Greg Martin in charge. The child was preceded in death by her father, David Wayne Parker.

Bay can set hours of gaming operation

Bay St. Louis gaming attorney Donald Rafferty reported Tuesday to the council, according to his interpretation of an attorney general's opinion, cities can set reasonable hours of operation for gaming

He also said cities have no authority to impose performance or surety bonds to guarantee completion of projects, in the event of abandonment. A gaming facility must be treated no differently than any other developer of private business, said Rafferty.

Another matter the attorney general's opinion attempted to clarify, he said, dealt with

Where no zoning exists, such as past the shoreline and bey-ond the waters of the Mississippi Sound and Bay of St. Louis, gaming can exist. But, the Gam-ing Control Act authorizes the executive director to recommend denial of an application for a gaming license for any cause deemed reasonable.

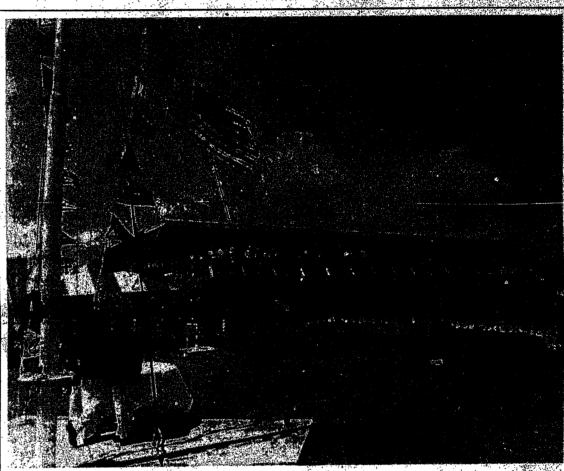

As an example, Rafferty said a gaming facility could be denied a license should it attempt to located in non-zoned waters along a residential waterfront area.

EPILEPSY FOUNDATION The board approved a $1,000 contribution to South Mississippi Epilepsy Foundation spe-cifying programs be directed to Bay St. Louis children.

Treva Smith, coordinator of the local chapter, requested a donation of $2,000 saying increased work load necessitated the hiring of an office assistant.

Smith said Pearl River County and Pass Christian presently contribute to the foundation, and in return receive services directed towards epilepsy education and support programs for sufferers.

She added, "People only think of epilepsy as one type, grand mal, but there are actually 30 types of seizures."

Mayor Eddie Favre asked Smart why her budget review showed no contribution from United Way, since the foundation is a United Way agency.

She answered, United Way funds are directed through the state office and returned as in kind materials, such as pamphlets.

Hancock County United Way contributions would be redirected to her office only after Hancock became a participant in the programs.

The council approved the auctioning of bicycles accumulated by the city. City Clerk Kay Johnson was instructed to design an advertisement to attract attention of children.

In other business the board approved: the monthly claims docket, totaling $336,658; the emergency purchase of two chain saws for $795, in anticipation of Hurricane Andrew; -advertisement for Phase I of planned sewer extension project;

—the special meeting date of 6 p.m. September, 15 for final 1993 budget approval; the auctioning of surplus

ADDITIONAL ARREST A second arrest has been made by Bay St. Louis Police in the recent burglary of two houses which occurred in late August.
Jerry Lee Hannah, 20, 912 Faith St., Waveland, has been charged with two counts of burglary, Bay Detective Tom Burleson said.

Burleson said Hannah was extradited from a Georgia jail on Wednesday in connection with the burglaries in which police recovered a cache of stolen items last week.

Hannah was lodged in the Hancock County Justice Facility Wednesday in lieu of a $10,000 bond. A Bay St. Louis resident was arrested on Sept. 1 in connection with the same burglaries and the case is still being investigated with other arrests possible, Burle-the Southeastern United States who are facing similar cutbacks in staffed services.

Hancock has been without an agent for several months, since the transfer of Randy Smith. The approved motion stipulated that should Hancock not find the arrangement satisfac-tory it would then become null and void.

O'Keefe said Harrison County's Board of Supervisors agreed to the sharing during their August 27 meeting.

James Ladner, speaking as a representative of the Hancock County Cattleman's Association suggested the state reduce the cooperative services home economics staff rather than deprive local farmers and ranchers of the needed agents.

Ladner said, "We are not prepared to share one agent with Harrison County when we are the fastest growing county in the state."

The board declared all applications for the position of county fire marshall illegal, saying prior advertisement for applications was done without board consent....

Board attorney Gerald Gex said those who have already filed applications need to redate all forms.

County fire marshall Jay Marsh is retiring on September

Those interested in applying may pick up a form at the civil defense office behind the courthouse. Those who have already applied must return to redate applications.

QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The jitters of the first official football game of the season are now behind local high school football teams as the second week of action takes place Friday.

Rock-A-Chaw stadium in Bay St. Louis should be rocking as the Tigers of Bay High will travel across town to be hosted by the Rocks.

Hancock High, after a victory last week over George County, will host a powerful Harrison Central in Hawk stadium.

Pass Christian will travel to East Central for their second encounter of the season.

Tiger head coach Rocky Gaudin got off to a good start

Friday night by defeating the Pirates of Pass Christian 14-6, while Stanislaus fell to 5-A Gulfport, 48-7.

This should be a good game, as it seems one can throw out the previous records for this annual contest, as both teams always put out a little extra effort in this friendly rivalry between the two Bay St. Louis schools.

Gaudin, in his third year at Bay High, is showing rewards from his program and probably has his best team ever, while Stanislaus head coach Ken Lyons is in a rebuilding stage with a young team containing very few starters from last season.

I would suggest that you get to Rock-A-Chaw stadium early if you want a seat, and be there before the game starts if you plan to stand with a good view of the field.

The Hawks will have their work cut out for them Friday, as Harrison Central is flying high after dropping No. 9 ranked Stone County last week 12-0.

Hancock can rise to the occasion, and who knows, maybe they can pull an upset.

Our local teams need your support, and one way of receiving it is to be in the stands Friday night. Games start at 7:30 p.m. See you at the game.

Officially, summer is said to be over for this year, yet the temperatures have been about the same as we had during July.

Our days are getting shorter, and before long, we will once again set our clocks back for one hour and be getting home from work after dark.

One of things I dislike about winter is the short days, as one is limited to what he can do out-of-doors, especially those of us who work during the day. I don't know about those folks who live in Alaska in winter, where they see no sunlight for weeks.

It will be interesting as to what type of winter season we will have this year. Last year must have set some sort of record for high temperatures, as I can only recall about two light freezes.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

After Andrew

As veterans of natural disasters such as Camille and the flood of '79, Mississippians know all too well about the type of devastation caused by Hurricane Andrew.

Many are calling Andrew's destruction in Florida and on the Gulf Coast the costliest natural disaster in American

Unfortunately, not even human tragedy is immune from political twists. It seemed that every action following the storm was viewed as political Senator Bob Graham, D-Fla., on a morning television news show, said, "I think the president has acted in a very apolitical manner and a non-partisan manner. This has not been an issue of Republicans or Democrats or any other division." As to the quickness of govern-ment response he said, "I think under the current process, they (government and military) probably moved about as rapidly as they could."

The process Sen. Graham referred to is Title 42, Section 5141 of the U.S. Code which states: All requests for a determination by the president that an emergency exists shall be made by the governor of the affected state.

The Red Cross, the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the Small Business Administration were on the spot the next day. MASH units were deployed by noon following Andrew.

Florida Governor Lawton Chiles did ask for Florida to be claimed a disaster area, but the did not ask for extra military help which was offered by the president until the Thursday following Andrew. Since then there has been more military involvement with this storm than any other natural disaster in U.S. history.

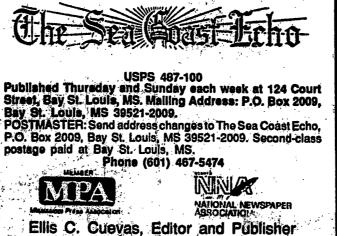

The point here is not to counter blame with blame, but rather to set the record straight.

We must remember that the first days after a disaster are always extremely unpleasant. Delays come from not fully of a storm.

Andrew's destruction was so great that it took time to get a handle on where and how to begin. When it was realized that more help was needed, more was sent.

The president, state and local officials, the people of Florida and Louisiana, and this nation have acted unselfishly and in the American spirit. The appeal for help has been met with an outpouring of prayers, food, clothing and money.

Americans always seem to find the good in something bad. In the wake of Andrew, America has found new friends and hope, opportunity to begin again and the chance to once again unite this nation.

Cystic fibrosis victim takes issue with Lott stand

Dewey Burton Jr. of Philadelphia has had it with Sen. Trent Lott and the Republicans who broadly brand the "nontraditional family" as a loathe-some element of the nation's society, for which the government should owe no responsibility.

What disturbs Burton is that they could be talking about him, because he is a 33-year-old who is unmarried, lives with his parents and he probably never will be married.

Burton has cystic fibrosis. He spent 18 years under an oxygen tent, and now stays mostly at home close to his respirator equipment, constantly facing life-threatening health disorders. He lives in a rural area where specialized medical treatment or insurance coverage is not available. To get the health care he needs, he often travels 90 miles to Jackson.

Just a few lines of an article under a Washington dateline Burton read in a recent issue of the Mississippi Baptist Record about Senator Lott's proposal to deny health care benefits to "non-traditional family members," including unmarrieds, in the District of Columbia enraged the Neshoba Countian.

In the article, Lott was quoted as saying such health care benefits would seriously undermine fundamental family values." Burton took it as a personal affront.

So Burton fired off a letter to the editor of The Clarion Ledger blasting Lott for "playing God and passing judgment on the lives of people he knows nothing about." Lott apparently believed, he wrote, "that unmarried people like me did not need medical insurance coverage because they were probably lesbians or homosexuals." He is not married at age 33, Burton had written, because he wouldn't want a wife to endure the burden of his illness. Nor is he homosexual, he wrote, and his undying faith in God was one reason he is still alive.

In a telephone call to his home, I learned from Burton that his letter was a culmination of his growing alienation from the Republican Party that was intensified by the constant "family values" refrain he heard from the GOP convention.

"I'm so sick of hearing about family values," he said. "I don't appreciate the Republican Party trying to portray us as unGodly persons if we are not married and don't have children.'

Burton said he took offense at the "whole Republican platform,' and he found the GOP position on a national health care program "doesn't reach the people like me who live in rural areas. A lot of us little people out here need help, we're not asking for handouts."

Although he has been a Republican all his life, Burton said, "I'm seriously thinking about voting Democratic this time, because the Democrats seem to care about us."

The Democrats' plan for national health care, which he said he had heard U.S. Rep.Mike Espy explain, is "more suited to those of us in rural areas and addresses our needs.'

He added: "I don't know why we can spend millions of dollars on the military and exploring outer space and not find enough funding for our people's health programs.'

Burton's asserted discontent with Lott over what he sees as a lack of compassion by the Republican senator for the rural poor and the handicapped raises a legitimate question about Lott's failure to learn at first hand how deep the fingers of poverty and deprivation reach in Mississippi.

Never to I recall Lott getting out in the dusty country roads among the rickety, leaking wooden shacks in virtually every part of this state and coming face-to-face with hunger. malnutrition and dispair that still grips thousands of Mississippians.

I remember what a tremendous change was made in the life and philosophy of another United States Senator-Fritz Hollings of South Carolina, when he made an eye-opening tour of poverty conditions in his state back in 1971.

Hollings said afterwards that living conditions he had seen with his own eyes in his own state he would not have been believed existed.

Maybe it is time for Trent Lott to get out among the poor folks, let his carefully coifed hair get mussed up, and see how it really is.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran praises President's action on disaster benefits for farmers

U. S. Senator Thad Cochran has praised President Bush's action Wednesday releasing $755 million for disaster relief for American farmers.

"This is good news for far-mers in Mississippi who have suffered weather-related crop losses," Cochran commented. "It shows the President is sensitive to the severe hardship suf-fered by farmers and their families in these disasters."

Cochran was instrumental, as a senior member of the Senate Agriculture and Appropriations panels, in securing passage of disaster relief legispassage of disaster relief legis-lation last year and authorizing $1.75 billion in supplemental appropriations for farmers. Already, $995 million has been distributed and the Presi-dent's action this week con-tinues this effort. This announcement shows the strong support and commit-ment that President Bush has for American agriculture.

These disaster funds will be a tremendous help for eligible farmers," Cochran said. He noted the President will monitor the impact of Hurricane Andrew on commercial crops and will ask Congress for more funding if additional dis-aster relief is needed. Under provisions of the disaster program, farmers may choose to receive disaster funds for one year's qualified crop losses in either 1990, 1991 or 1992. In addition to the disaster relief action, the President also announced a major Export Enhancement Program initiative to encourage the export of over $3 billion in U.S. wheat.

Cochran said. This is part of President Bush's plan to become more aggressive in the agricultural export market and to show the world that America is willing to be competitive in world markets and combat unfair trade practices."

Library consultant says county sytem must grow

BY TRACI BONNEY

Hancock County has a good little library system, but that is its problem — it's little.

B. Franklin Hemphill, a library consultant who has worked across the nation, recently made his recommendations to the county library system's board of directors. His main recommendation: expand. The board members had hired Hemphill to survey the system because they recognized the system has a space shortage. They didn't know, however, just how much that shortage is: almost 9,000 square feet.

Hemphill said the "practical ideal" calls for 15,000 square feet, but he recommended that the system expand above the ideal to 17,000 square feet. The current library system - the Waveland, Kiln and headquarters facilities — has a total of 8,129 square feet.

He outlined the positive and negative aspects of each library within the system, starting with the Kiln branch. Hemphill said its main assets are that it is geographically well situated within the service area, and that it is expandable on the present site. Its main problem is that it is too small to even be considered an extension outlet of the main library, to house even token sections of the basic library services. Hemphill said it really functions only as a book station. He recommended that the Kiln branch, to function to its fullest, needs to have 3,000 and preferably 5,000 — square feet, as opposed to its present 500. Although the branch is expandable at the site, Hemphill said the available space may not be enough to create a 3,000 to 5,000 square foot facility.

The Waveland library has almost 2,000 square feet, which is nearly enough to meet the bare minimum for a small community branch, but Hemphill said its location — several blocks away from a town center.

tural capacity for expansion, and nearly adequate on-site parking, Hemphill said. He also noted that the library has good use and a competent, knowledgeable, concerned staff and

On the other hand, he added, the main service areas are too small and materials are crowded; the circulation area is too small and inefficient to operate; part of the adult reference section has encroached on the children's area, which was already too small and understocked.

tion of two or more of the first five. He also estimated costs of implementing each of the options.

The final section of his report gave his conclusions and recommendations, along with a disclaimer.

He said his recommendations "are intended as suggestive and illustrative and are offered in that way with the final reminder that the final decisions are yours, and that no matter what I say, you all will likely choose that level of information and library service

Other negative observations made by Hemphill about the headquarters library are: there is no room for expansion or rearrangement of services, or for the inclusion of new technology; several basic services are not represented (CDs, cassettes and public access computers, for example); space for the literacy program and behind-thescenes support areas is inadequate; there is no administrative complex, conference room or board room; there is not enough storage space for materials and supplies; and the staff lounge is too small for the number of staff members.

He also pointed out that Diamondhead, a growing community with a definable town center, has no library service at all in the immediate area.

Hemphill outlined six options, including additions to present facilities, relocations, construction of new facilities. The main shortcoming.
The main library located on library facilities for library use, the area on site and the structure of the area of which appears possible at this

After suggesting which options he thought the library board ought to consider implementing, he added, "Construction of a new library on a new site would solve most of the system's problems in one stroke. I recommend a site somewhere between the east/west dividing line of Waveland and Bay St. Louis and as far north toward the Kiln area as possible. The site should be in a shopping or town center — or at the very least, a major crossroads of the three areas.

That location would allow this facility to function as the community library for the three population areas and Shoreline Park, as well as serving as the headquarters library for the system. That facility would nullify the need for libraries in Waveland, Kiln and Bay St. Louis and, of course, any improvements to those facilities.

He explained that combination of services in one facility could result in improved service to each of the areas and savings of funds in materials, staff and building maintenance and utilities, strengthening the system in the future.

Library board member John Smart said the board has met with officials from Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the board of supervisors to discuss Hemphill's recommendations.

"It's too early to tell yet what we will do," Smart said, "but we will definitely do something. "We want to keep things moving. We're not going to slow up now that we've started."

The library board was scheduled to meet again with city and county officials Wednesday at 2 p.m. No details from the work session were available as of press time.

Stennis researchers surveyed several areas of concern. Access to storm damaged communities by ground relief teams is being hampered because roads and highways are covered with debris. The NASA digital imagery depicts the conditions of the roadways so cleanup can be prioritized. The digital imagery provides information on damage done to the residential and commercial areas of South Florida. It will also be used to map the beaches and land cover so state officials can see the hurricane's impact on beach loss, erosion and the state's mangrove forests.

Stennis Space Center has worked with the state of Florida for nearly two decades in transferring this technology to state and municipal agencies, such as the Florida Water Management District, the Department of Natural Resources and the Department of Transportation.

In addition to disaster assessment, digital imagery has been used by scientists at the Mississippi facility in such ways as assisting firefighting efforts in Northern California, assessing damage done by oil spills in the Persian Gulf and off the coasts of Alaska and Florida, and potato crop management for Oregon farmers.

Tigers look for a win on Rock-A-Chaw turf

BY RANDY PONDER

Two teams headed in opposite directions will meet Friday night in Rock-A-Chaw Stadium. But when the Bay High Tigers and St. Stanislaus collide on the football field, you can toss out all the stats. Records mean nothing.

This game is for all the marbles. The city championship. Bragging rights for the whole

The Rocks have won the last five, including a 42-16 whipping of the Tigers last year in Joe D. McCullouch Stadium.

That was last year, ancient history. Things appear to be much different this time around. St. Stanislaus is in a rebuilding year. They lost their opener to class 5-A powerhouse Gulfport, 48-7, last week. Only four starters return from last year's 5-5 team, which started strong at 5-1 and faded as the year went along.

Bay High also finished last season at 5-5, starting slow and building momentum which seems to have carried over into this season.

Head coach Rocky Gaudin, now in his third year with the Tigers, has turned around a struggling program. No longer meek and mild, his Tigers believe in themselves. They have learned how to win. They have confidence.

Last week they beat the Pass Christian Pirates, 14-6, a team that has given the Tigers trouble for many years. Bay High ran a wishbone offense in that contest, a formation they had worked on for only one week.

"This is the first time since I've been here that we have won our opening game; it's a strange feeling," Gaudin said feeling," afterwards.

In that game, Larrone Lewis ran for 102 yards on 15 carries. Leroy Hawkins picked up 33 yards on seven attempts and quarterback Sam Sheppard rushed 10 times for 26 yards. Xavier Lewis added 15 yards on Dwayne Antoine scored on a four-yard run for the Tigers first touchdown. Sheppard added a two point conversion with a burst up the middle and later scored Bay High's final TD on a four yard run in the third period.

Both of those scores were the result of long, ball control The first covering 60 yards and 14 plays. The second ground. Bay High amassed 12 first downs in the contest.

The Tiger defense was outstanding, especially near the goal line. The special teams blocked a field goal attempt and the return team keep the Tigers in good field position all night.

Players of the week announced by the Bay High Athletic Club are Larrone Lewis, offense and Jimmy Strong, Game time for this cross town rivalry is 7:30 p.m. Friday in Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

Waveland Little League baseball seeks members

The Waveland Little League baseball association is sponsoring a membership drive 7:30 p.m. September 20 at Elwood

The association encourages interested parents, coaches, umpires and sponsors to attend for the purpose of developing year-round fund raiser programs.
"We intend to get started early," newly elected president

Charlie Buckley stated, "so when baseball season begins in the spring, we won't have to be scratching for funds and the kids can get on with playing ball." Elwood Bourgeois Park is located at Waveland and Central Wildcats win season opener

A second half come-back helped make up for a shaky start to give the Pearl River Community College Wildcats a 21-14 win in their season opener against the Northeast Tigers last Thursday in Dobie Holden Stadium.

The Wildcat offense fluttered and sputtered leaving PRC with a 7-0 deficit and only 50 total yards at the half.

The Wildcat defense, which bent at times, rose to the occasion and stopped the Tigers in their tracks. Two interceptions by Picayune's Darionne Magee helped set up scoring drives for the Wildcats. The Northeast Tigers also faced minus yardage with 13 penalties for 134 yards.

Northeast scored first with 6:47 left in the half when Tiger Frank Patterson took the ball in seven-yard run. The Tigers had covered 60 yards in 11 plays to set up the score. The point after attempt by David Came-ron was good and the Tigers led

The Wildcats tied the game with a little over three minutes left in the third quarter when Chris Ryan, the 6-0, 260-pound running back from Sulpur, La., powered through on a one-yard run for the score. The PAT by Brandon Murray was good and the score was 7-7

With four seconds to go in the third period, PRC quarterback Dayna Hall scooted 13 yards to rive the Cats the lead. Murray hit the PAT and PRC led 14-7.

Another power run by Ryan put six more on the board just under nine minutes left in the game. Murray's PAT was good and the PRC Wildcats led 21-7.

The Tigers refused to let up late and closed the gap by one touchdown. Runningback Rickey Andrews darted in from one yard out for the score. The extra point by Cameron was good and the score closed at 21-14 with the Wildcats still in the lead

Northeast fought back and was on the PRC nine-yard line with two-seconds remaining in the game. A pass into the end zone was knocked away as the Wildcats, preserved, their first win of the year, PRCJ will travel to Raymond to meet Hinds at 7 p.m. Satur-day, Sept. 12. Radio Station WLUN-FM 95.3 will broadcast the game.

Hawks face strong Red Rebel team

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County's football team will face a tough competitor Friday as they take the field against the 5A Harrison Central High School

"They are unpredictable," HHS head coach Irvin Favre stated of the Harrison Central

Favre said the Red Rebels defeated Picayune in their pre-season game, and last week walked off the field with a 12-0 shut out against Stone

Being well aware of Harrison Central's strengths, the Hawks intend to begin by concentrating pressure on Red Rebel quarterback Chris Haskins.

"He (Haskins) is an outstanding player," Favre commented. "He threw the ball over 100 yards in both of their past games.

Their entire offensive is strong. They mix up their throwing and running games so you never know what they will do.' Another key watch area for the Hawks Friday

The seventh and eighth grade and ninth grade football games between St. Stanislaus and Bay High scheduled for today, have been rescheduled for Thursday, Oct. 1 in J. D. McCullough stadium.

SSC athletic director Jerry Spell said Thursday, "We requested the games be rescheduled because our teams did not have time to get ready.

"Our team lost a week's practice due to Hurricane Andrew, and our coaches had the players only a couple days for practice.

Our coaches felt it was not in the best interest of the players to compete in this game (today's) with only a few days of practice," Spell added.

Foucha said he hooked the fish around 1:30 a.m. Saturday while fishing off the American Legion Pier on Washington Avenue in Bay St. Louis. Michigan and Notre Dame could meet in football in the middle of March—at the height of the basketball season and it would still be the top game of the day. The third-ranked Wolverines, champions of the Big Ten last fall, are the visiting team this year and it could add to the difficulty of repeating last season's 24-14 win over the Irish. Notre Dame lost two other games on successive Saturdays to Tennessee and Penn State in 1991, then made up for it with a huge 39-28 upset win over Florida in the Sugar Bowl. Michigan's only loss last season was a 51-31 thrashing from Florida State. It might be easier to pick a winner if they were playing in March. However, Michigan wins on the road. The last meeting between Southeast Conference rivals Georgia and Tennessee was three years ago, the Vols coming up with a 17-14 win in Knoxville, Tennessee and Georgia were 9-2 and 8-3 respectively in 1991, the Vols losing to Penn State 42-17 in the Fiesta Bowl while the Bulldogs were 24-15 winners over Arkansas in the Independence Bowl. In a dogfight, Tennessee.

Neither Pittsburgh nor West Virginia of the Big East Conference made it into the Top Twenty last year, both teams finishing at 6-5. No bowls: The Panthers buried the Mountaineers 34-3 in their season-opener last year and we think home-standing Pittsburgh will win again.

Remember last season's opener between Michigan State and Central Michigan? The Chippewas stunned the Spartans 20-3. It shouldn't happen again, but stranger things have happened. Stay tuned.

Last year's Atlantic Coast Conference champion Clemson entertains Florida State. It's #15 hosting #5. The Tigers couldn't handle California in last January's Citrus Bowl, losing big 37-13, and they could be in for more trouble Saturday against the high-powered Seminoles.

Dallas, 23—New York Giants, 17 Cowboys beat Giants first time in seven meetings in opening match-up last fall, 21-16. QB Troy Aikman threw winning TD pass in final two minutes. Giants won second game 22-9.

Denver, 20—San Diego, 17
RB Gaston Green helped lead Denver to double victories over Chargers last season, 27-19, 17-14. Green ran for total of 217 yards, scoring three TDs in first game—Broncos.
Detroit, 27—Minnesota, 17

Lions broke long record last fall, beating Vikings twice, first time since 1962—in opener, Detroit trailed 20-3, then scored 21 points in 4th quarter to win 24-20—2nd, 34-14.

Green Bay, 27—Tampa Bay, 20

Bucs were bumped twice by Packers last season, 15-13 on the road, 27-0 at home. BG scored winning FG in last 22 seconds in first meeting, then forced eight Buc turnovers in shutout.

Houston, 30-Indianapolis, 17 Oilers hosted Colts in last meeting in 1990, but were poor hosts, whipping Indy 24-10, QB Warren Moon completing 29 of 37 passes, three for TDs. Houston tough to beat again.
Kansas City, 23—Seattle, 20

Chief lead series 15-12 thanks to double victories last season. KC QB Stan DeBerg passed for two TDs in first 20-13 win, then Nick Lowery kicked four FGs in second 19-6 win.

L. A. Raiders, 24—Cincinnati, 17

Raiders routed home-standing Cincy 38-14 in 1991 match-up, L.A. forcing 5 Bengal turnovers. Raiders held big 28-0 halftime lead—loss was 11th out of first 12 games for Cincinnati.

L. A. Rams, 21—New England, 20 In last match-up three years ago, Rams earned Wild Card spot by beating Pats 24-20 in final game of season. L.A. trailed 20-17 with two minutes remaining, but rallied for win.

New Orleans, 20—Chicago, 13

After winning 7 in a row last fall, Saints, playing at home, lost to visiting Bears 20-17, Chicago rallying with deciding 12-yard TD pass in final 54 seconds—Saints favored.

Philadelphis, 28—Phoenix, 17

Cards surprised Eagles in first match-up last fall, forcing six Eagle turnovers, to win 26-10—second meeting was complete turnaround, Eagle defense leading to big 34-14 win. Pittsburgh, 26—New York Jets, 24

Steelers lead series 11-1—two years ago in NY, Pitt QB Bubby Brister threw 2 TD passes to lead Steelers to 24-7 win over Jets. NY offense stymied, making just eight 1st downs.

San Francisco, 30—Buffalo, 24

Last time Bills, 49ers met—in '89—both were division champions. S.F., playing at home, beat Buffalo 21-10, but only led 7-3 into 4th quarter. 49-ers won S.B. in 1989.

Washington, 31—Atlanta, 24

Redskins defeathered Falcons during regular season last fall, QB Mark Rypien throwing 6 TD passes, Washington rolling 56-17. Atlanta lost to Skins in playoffs on turnovers 24-7.

Clayeland 24 Minmi 23

Cleveland, 24-Miami 23

Dolphins took Browns apart in their last meeting two years ago, running up a 27-3 margin at halftime, winning 30-13. Miami QB Dan Marino passed for two TDs, 245 yards—toss-

Gulf Coast Research Labor- Biloxi due to a lack of transpor- groups of 25-30 for four handsery (PMD) program is going "on the road," thanks to a $31,506 grant from the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant

Consortium. The new three-hour outreach program is designed for kindergarten through high school students who are unable to attend the regular PMD programs at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in tation runus.

GCRL staff members will travel a distance of 250 miles one-way to teach a minimum of 100-120 students.

The program is usually offered from 9 a.m. until noon, but an additional 100-120 students can be offered from noon until 3 p.m. if the school is interested. A $1 charge per child covers materials and supplies. Students will be divided into on experiences designed to foster increased awareness and understanding of Mississippi's fragile marine and aquatic environments.

Only one visit will be made to a school during an academic year, but the program can be presented to other schools in a particular district.

For "On the Road" reservations or additional information, call 374-5550.
